Since its inception, the Children's Home of Virginia Baptists has been a cultural hub in the community. Initially founded in 1948, the founders were interested in specifically addressing the residential, health, safety, educational and spiritual wellbeing of the children served. Although the current trend has moved away from residential care, the Children's Home for Virginia Baptists has continued to provide delivery of support services to at-risk families and children for the purpose of assuring their wholesome development and quality of life.

Built in 2006, the recently developed Ritchie Multi-Purpose Building is able to provide service to small groups as well as groups of up to 1000 people standing or 450 seated.
